

St. Martin of Tours is a large Catholic primary school with many different faces and organisations. However, within these walls there is a special sense of belonging, trust and mutual respect. Individuals are encouraged to aspire to excellence.

St Martin of Tours is a Catholic primary school located 16 km north east of Melbourne in the Eastern Metropolitan region. It is located next to the Church of St Martin of Tours. It is in a residential area at the intersection of Lower Plenty Road and Greensborough Road.

The philosophy of the school is to give a Catholic education to all Catholic children in the parish. No child is disadvantaged by a family's inability to pay fees. The school emblem "Non recuso laborem" reflects our philosophy of not being afraid of hard work to achieve our aims. We believe that God is part of all we do at school so the Gospel values of cooperation, concern for others, justice and love are reflected in all our activities. Each child is given opportunities to develop his or her potential □□ intellectually, spiritually, emotionally, socially and physically.
